

LOCOFECO EXTRAVAGANCE.—Genuine Locofecism is everywhere the same. In Ohio or Indiana, its peculiar features manifest themselves on all occasions, an ardent and unabated affection for the spoils of office, a strong love for the people, expressed frequently and in terms of endearment, such as a prodigious nephew bears towards a rich old uncle, lasting no longer than the probability of getting his arms into the old gentleman's coffers.

The tax-payers of Ohio well know what was done last winter. They know that the Legislature which performed the most bungling work ever attempted to be passed off upon the people of Ohio, charged the highest price for it. They know that the Constitution was violated, "in the hands of its friends" to give the printing to Medary; they know that half the session was spent in perfecting measures to give the spoils of office and the money of the people to the Locofeco partisans throughout the State, instead of legislation, as they were bound to do under their oath of office, for the good of the whole people; and they know also that they called around them a set of lazy, worthless Locofecos, paying them with the people's money, when they acknowledged by resolution that there was no necessity for half the number. So much for Ohio.

How in Indiana? We have before us a document compiled from the official records, and addressed to the tax-payers of that State, sent to us by an old and valued friend, who has had some experience in our own affairs and has paid some taxes to keep up extravagance in our own country.

We will remark that the people of that State, as in ours, influenced by the professions of economy and love for the dear tax-payers, entrusted the reforming of their organic law to the leaders of Locofecism. As we will add that the people of that State, as in ours, begin to think that they have paid a very high price for very bad work, and are beginning to realize that the men who make lofty pretensions about their acquirements in statesmanship and low professions of economy, are very apt to be grown up apprentices who left their masters before they had learned even an index of their trade.

But how is it? In the first place, the new Constitution, which was to be a good job and very cheap at that, cost the people twice as much as a better instrument would have cost framed by honest and patriotic men. The excess was caused by calling around the Convention extra-reporters, clerks and sergeant-at-arms, to lounge about the city, eat oysters and drink whiskey. There were sixteen secretaries and twenty-one sergeants-at-arms and door-keepers, enough in all conscience to write a dozen books and guard the dignity and sweep the halls of a dozen Conventions.

But the job was done and we are free to admit that, we like it better than our own. There were a few good men in the convention who had influence enough to keep out a few objectionable features which crept into our own. "The new constitution was then to be placed in the hands of its friends."

Upon this point there was harmony between Ohio and Indiana Locofecism; in both States, they entrusted the people not to let the rascally Whigs put the machine into operation or they would spoil it. They succeeded and wherever any part of it would turn out for the hungry partisans and chaff for the people, it was a glorious invention and must by all means be strictly adhered to; but should there be any likelihood of another part turning out for the tax-payers and chaff for some leader of Locofecism, as the printing clause, it was a matter of small moment and there was no necessity for regarding it.

The Legislature met. The two bodies and their committees had thirty-eight clerks, nineteen door-keepers, and various other partisans around them, costing the State altogether $112,771.44, and paying in addition over $30,000 for printing the revised code. More than this, the auditor of State says some accounts are yet to be audited. In 1842-3, when the Whigs revised the laws, the Legislative expenses amounted to $25,112, and the printing to $15,334, making the whole about $40,000 against $14,000. In 1841-2, the most expensive year of a Whig Administration, the whole expenses of the State Government amounted to $108,343 against $197,771 of a Locofeco Administration—and in the year of Whig ascendancy, the transactions of the Fond commissioners were investigated, costing a large amount in the way of witnesses' fees, &c. For clerks, sergeants-at-arms, &c. the Whigs paid $3,307; the Locofecos paid $27,303.

Need we again refer the reader to a similar comparison in Ohio? Let it be remembered that in both States economy was promised; in both States these promises were shamefully violated, had Locofeco legislation costing the people about three times as much as good Whig legislation; botched work costing more than well-made and well-finished jobs.

Is it any wonder that the Locofeco love the dear tax-payers so very much? Most any prodigal would pretend to love the individual who supplied him with the means by which he could continue his dissipation. But are these facts not enough to convince the people that the men, who, with the syren song of Democracy upon their lips, bid the money of the people at their heart, continually prate of freedom and patriotism and honesty and economy, ought not to be trusted with the management of their affairs? For years the spoils of office have been their only aim, and this is why that their Administrations are guilty of extravagance. Too many men, who live only for office, swarm around the Executive and Legislative Departments, and must be rewarded for their patriotic services in getting the party into power.

ANOTHER HUMBOLDT USED UP.—It has been going the rounds of the Locofeco papers that Mr. C. H. WILLIAMS, member of Congress from Tennessee, declared that HARRY CLAY advised his son not to support Gen. Scott for President. This is all false. Mr. WILLIAMS has written a letter, stating that no such remark, or anything of the kind, was ever made by him. So that falsehood dies the death!

DEMOCRATIC TESTIMONY.—A resident of South Bend, Indiana, recently received the following letter from Mr. George Willmire, an active Democrat who resides in Cleveland, in answer to an inquiry if it was true that he had resolved to support Scott. We find the letter in the St. Joseph Valley Register, which is published at South Bend:

Cleveland, O., Aug. 9, '52.—Dear Sir:—The statement to which you refer is correct. I am a Scott man, and have always heretofore been an uncompromising Democrat. Such as I now, but when the Democratic party, forgetting those principles which should guide it, arrays itself against the interests of our country, I do not feel myself bound by its action.

I support Scott because he is the representative of the principles, which are Democratic, namely: Government appropriation for internal improvements; A Tariff for revenue, affording protection to American industry; and obedience to all the compact of the Constitution, but opposition to the extension of slavery into free territories.

Upon all these questions I find General Pierce wrong upon the record; and by his votes, always opposing protection to the Mariner, the Mechanic and the Farmer; and the rights of petition and of Freedom.

For these reasons I support Winfield Scott, and with a score of neighbors and friends, heretofore active, working Democrats, shall do all in my power for the election of that well-tried patriot to the Presidency in November.

You are at liberty to use this letter as you think best, and believe me, in the support of Old Chippewa; Truly Yours, Geo. WILMIRE.

RIVER AND HARBOR BILL.—In the Senate, the two members from New Hampshire, and nineteen of their Locofeco associates, voted against the River and Harbor bill. General Pierce approves these votes of the New Hampshire Senators. In the course of a speech which he made on the 23d of last January, he said:

"Appropriations by the Federal Government for the improvement of Rivers and Harbors were of a purely Federal character, and repugnant to the principles and practice of the Democracy of this State; and that Messrs. Hale and Tuck were justly obnoxious to the charge of Federal sympathy for having opposed the bill."

He pointedly affirmed that no person elected to Congress as a Democrat from this State had ever supported measures of this character. He put the question to the audience if this were not so, and paused for a reply, which was given in the affirmative by some persons near the speaker's desk.

Whether appropriations will stand but a poor chance if he has the veto power. All. Eve. Journal.

THE ATTORNEY GENERAL.—Whigs will remember, Democrats especially will remember, Locofecos will try to forget, what a tremendous fuss was kicked up when the Whigs, having in view the good of the State, established the office of Attorney General. It was said to be a most outrageous proceeding, an extravagant measure, and the people were called upon to abolish it. Well, the Locofecos got in power, and did they carry out their promise? Not they. They not only retained the office, but increased the salary, and at this time the incumbent is paying for the increase in the way of stamping the State, playing the British orator and receiving the applause of Locofecism.

"INDEX."—The "Progressive Era," a rabid Locofeco paper published at Cedar Rapids, Iowa, says that "the people owe nothing to General Scott." If the people don't owe anything to Scott, in the name of Heaven, what do they owe to Gen. Pierce? But it will take a stronger progressive than he of the Era, to make the people believe any such stuff as this. They generally acknowledge their gratitude and indebtedness and despite the cold-hearted ingratitude who could pen such a paragraph as the above.

LAST THURSDAY the Whigs of Detroit had a large and enthusiastic gathering at the dedication of the building appropriated to the use of the Scott Campaign Clubs. The Ladies were present in large numbers, as they always are when the Whigs are to have a rejoicing, and the campaign was opened in earnest. The Advertiser says:

"Friends of Scott in the interior! The City of the Straits, is in one blaze of excitement for Scott! It is in the hearts of her Mechanics, her working-men and sailors; they formed the masses which filled the Marquee on Thursday night with a crowd large enough to twice fill it. Our course is onward and victory is before us."

WHAT BARNUM AND JENNY LIND MADE.—The following note to the New York Musical World, said to be from a reliable source gives the sum total, in round numbers, that the two personages whose names head this article cleared over all expenses during their connection. It seems that they average a trifle over $3,000 apiece each concert:

Not long since, Mr. Barnum exhibited to me the account current between himself and Jenny Lind, and a truly marvellous document it was. It is a long one, and it is to be regretted that the space of this paper does not permit of its publication in full. It is a document of the world generally and singularly particularly. According to the footing up and balances, the parties received the following handsome dividends, after all expenses were paid:—Jenny Lind, $302,000; P. T. Barnum, $308,000; total $610,000.

LOWER CALIFORNIA.—The San Diego Herald, of the 22nd, has from reliable authority, that active preparations are on foot, to proclaim the independence of the peninsula of California, under the name of "Don Manuel Castro," a native of Monterey, and late an officer in the Mexican army, is said to have been recently engaged in a visit to California, to proceed to Lower California, and proclaim the independence of that territory. Rumor has it, that he has been quite successful, and that his followers are daily making their way over the line in small parties, intending to unite at a given point, and march upon San Thomas and La Paz. Negrete, the head of the Mexican authorities in that country, is represented as a timid man, incapable of a well organized effort. His family has taken refuge in our city, from the impending storm. Castro is of the opinion that the few Mexican troops in the garrison at Santa Thomas and La Paz, will join his standard as soon as he appears there.

PURITY OF ELECTIONS.—Henry B. Bell, the defeated candidate for sheriff in St. Louis, Mo., has given notice that he will contest the election of John M. Wimer, on the ground that four hundred and fourteen persons, whose names he gives, voted who were not citizens of the United States; that one hundred and sixty-four voted twice; thirty voted three times; nine voted four times; and thirty-eight voted five times; and gives the names of each individual. The names in Missouri must be conducted carefully.

California Adventurers.—Letters were received here yesterday from Messrs. Crim & Sturgeon and several of the members of their company, from which we learn that they reached Salt Lake on the 11th of July, the letters are dated at that city, July 18.—Their stock was doing well, except some loss of flesh. Some of the poorest were traded there for cattle. Mr. Crim writes that Salt Lake city is quite a curiosity, situated in a beautiful valley, near the base of the Rocky Mountains, and the inhabitants, who are all Mormons, have an abundance of everything for the sustenance of man and at reasonable prices. Wheat sells at $1 per bushel; Flour at $3.50 per cwt; Butter 15c; Eggs the same, &c. Mr. Crim also says that "he found the Mormons as clever as any people in the world can be, and as great a trading people as ever he saw."

The company was to leave Salt Lake on the 25th of July for Marysville, a distance of 750 miles, and they expected to reach that place in 35 or 40 days. Mr. Crim also states that it is a great road and he thinks he will not trouble it again. It is situated in one of the loveliest spots in the world, and the company had purchased some cattle and had proceeded on their own hook, expecting to arrive sooner than the main body. They had some sickness along the route.

CENTRAL OIL RAILROAD.—All under contract.—The following article from the Zanesville Courier is of gratifying interest to the citizens of this community and the friends of the C. W. & Z. Railroad:—

"We are just informed that the Directors have contracted with Messrs. BRADLEY, WHITEHEAD & Co., of Burlington, Vt., for the graduation and masonry of all of the previously unlet portion of the road, together with the furnishing of cross-ties, and the ballasting and track-laying of the whole road from Zanesville to Wheeling.

The time fixed for the completion of the graduation is the 1st of January, 1854. Upon forty miles of the line from Zanesville east, the rail is to be laid next summer, and by fall will extend our railway track within forty miles of the Baltimore and Ohio Road. Upon the remainder of the line the track is to be laid as fast as the sections are graded, and by a year from next spring, at farthest, the presumption is that the line in its complete and finished railway connection with the whole of the seaboard cities.

The contractors have the reputation of men of large means, and of extended experience in railroad building. Having formed a very high estimate of the prospective value and importance of the central road, they came resolved to associate themselves with the opening, and according to it, in the future, agreed to terms, which few young enterprises could command. As an evidence of their confidence in the road, they agreed to take 30 per cent. in the stock of the company.

This contract should be a matter of gratulation to all the friends of the road."

CAPT. MARCY'S EXPEDITION.—Survey of the Red River.—Capt. Marcy, during his late expedition, completed the topographical examination and survey of the Red River, in which he has engaged for several years.—The St. Louis Republican says:

He has followed the North Fork, the Middle and the South Fork of the Red River to its source, about forty miles from Anton Chico, in New Mexico. In some places he found the South Fork a river, half a mile wide, but partaking very much of the character of the Platte—shallow, with a sandy bed, and much of it, except when high, uncovered by water. For two hundred and fifty miles from Fort Arbuckle, west, the country is represented as the finest in the West for farming purposes. The land is well timbered with oak, pecan and other fine trees; the atmosphere pure and healthy as the mountains of New England, and inviting the emigration of the white man. Very soon they will be found there. Game of every kind is abundant, and the command had excellent sport in killing bears, panthers, antelopes, buffaloes, &c.

Other parts of the Red River, in parts explored by this expedition, have been condemned on account of its salty taste, and it has been generally supposed that there were large beds of salt toward its sources, but this is found not to be the case. The presence of gypsum, in large bodies, high up the river, is supposed to give to the water this peculiar flavor, as, above these points, the water is pure and agreeable.

We understand that, so far from the command having suffered from the attack of the Indians, they encountered no hostility whatever. They did not even lose a horse or mule, and the men suffered very little from sickness.

HORSE SPRUNG TO DEATH BY BEES.—We learn from the Delaware Journal, that a horse belonging to Mr. Hoopes, of Mill Creek Hundred, tied near a beehive, a few days ago, was attacked by the whole hive, and maddened by the pain, he broke loose, and covered with bees, he started for an adjoining field, where he died in a short time afterwards. The bees next attacked the horse of Dr. McCabe, tied near the same spot, and before he could be rescued was nearly dead from being severely stung. Dr. McCabe, in his efforts to save his horse, was also badly stung. The bees were finally dispersed, at the suggestion of a lady, by drenching them with water while on the horses.

IOWA ELECTION.—The Burlington Hawkeye of the 22d instant, contains a tolerable full report of the returns of the late election in Iowa. From that it appears, that in the Senate the Whigs have elected 14, and the Democrats 17; and in the House the Whigs have elected 27, and the Democrats will have 32. This shows a very large Whig gain in both branches. The Hawkeye thinks when the full official vote comes in, the gain will be larger than it now appears.

THE RELICS OF NATIVISM.—In the heyday of the Native American party, its two bulwarks were Lewis C. Levin and Peter S. Smith, both of Philadelphia. Levin was elected to Congress and Smith tried to be Gen. Taylor's Collector for the Port of Philadelphia, but failed. Now Levin is a great Webster man, and is running as the Native Candidate for Congress in his own District, while Smith takes the honest, frank course of going for Pierce and King outright.—Tribune.

It is said, if Gen. Scott is any sort of a Native, that the Native leaders should be among his bitterest enemies.—Cleve. Herald.

SLAVES FREED.—A gentleman, lately deceased, in a will, bequeathed to his son, $50,000 to settle his slaves in one of the non-slaveholding States; the heirs of the gentleman are willing that these liberated slaves should be sent to Liberia, and application will be made to Judge Thompson, at the present term of the Superior court, for permission to do so.

Webster's Dictionary appears to be rising fast in popularity in England. Wm. Longman, the publisher, has been endeavoring, in vain, to find an editor competent to prepare a new edition of Johnson's Dictionary. He has now adopted the revised edition of Webster's Dictionary, as a perfect English Standard.

The Whig party and Gen. Scott have been already compelled to face the music.—Albany Record.

Gen. Scott has faced all sorts of music.—He has faced the martial music of his country's enemies, the shrill tones of the fife, the deep roll of the drum, the loud blast of the trumpet, the thunder tones of the artillery, the fierce clash of the onset, and the sharp, quick clash of steel, and—never flinched.—Pratt.

Gen. Pierce has our best wishes for his success.—London Times.

No doubt Gen. Riall had your best wishes for his success at Chippewa and Landy's Lake, but his forces were routed and he was taken prisoner.—Richmond Whig.

ANOTHER PIERCE CONVERT.—The great Philadelphia Nativist, Gen. Peter S. Smith, announces his adherence to the Locofeco candidates, Pierce and King. The Locofeco party are much pleased with this conversion, as though it had never professed an abhorrence of Nativism. The New Hampshire test, the sham Democracy who sustain it, and the candidate for President who represents both, exactly suit the notions of Peter S. Smith. He has gone to his own country.

CHOLERA IN BUFFALO.—We perceive by the statistics published in the Buffalo Republic of Saturday evening, that the total number of deaths in that city by cholera, during the month of August, was 338—an average of about 11 a day.

COUNTERFEIT GOLD COIN.—A large amount of counterfeit gold coin is in circulation in Philadelphia, against which the public should be on their guard. It is mostly of light weight, and is distinguished by a black ring on the edge of the pieces.

The Louisville Journal estimates the hog crop this year at 15 per cent. over last year, both in quality and quantity. Contracts have been made at $5 net.

MERCHANT TAILORS.—Springer & Trout, 111 N. 2nd St., have removed their Clothing Establishment to the new building, between the Exchange Office, where they have just opened a large and extensive stock.

Ready Made Clothing.—We sell what will sell as well as the same quality of goods and work can be purchased at any other establishment in the city. We have a large stock of ready-made clothing, and our prices are as low as any other establishment. We have a large stock of ready-made clothing, and our prices are as low as any other establishment. CLOTHES, CASSIMERES, VESTINGS, &c.—Which they are prepared to manufacture to order. They have in their display the best of workmen and are at all times prepared to make the best and in the latest styles. All their work will be warranted. The public are respectfully solicited to call and examine their stock, as well as the liberal patronage they have enjoyed, they assure their old customers and all others that they will be glad to give general satisfaction. SPRING & TROUT, Lancaster, May 4, 1852.

THE TELEGRAPH LINE.—Little & Dresbach, 111 N. 2nd St., have removed their Clothing Establishment to the new building, between the Exchange Office, where they have just opened a large and extensive stock.

Stock of Spring and Summer Goods.—Just opened, comprising every variety of fancy patterns and muslin in the Eastern market, which have been selected with great care as to price and quality, and will sell as low as any other establishment. Proprietor of the American Museum, New York, has the honor to announce, that encouraged by the brilliant success of his various efforts for the amusement of the public, he has been led to form the project of organizing a vast travelling

MUSEUM OF WONDERS.

Which comprises a great variety of attractions, and more extensive than any other travelling exhibition in the world. Every feature of this mammoth establishment is of a peculiar and interesting nature, and is calculated to excite a vigorous and intelligent interest in the minds of the people.

CAR OF JUGGERNAUT.—Drawn by Ten Elephants upon their caravans, being an accurate model of that terrible engine of idolatrous sacrifice, which is used by the Hindoos in the sacrifice of human beings. Following this mammoth vehicle is a large procession of costly cages and carriages, the whole of which is calculated to excite a vigorous and intelligent interest in the minds of the people.

GENERAL TOM TUMB.—Is attached to this exhibition, and will appear in all the principal cities of the United States. He is a most extraordinary and amusing character, and is calculated to excite a vigorous and intelligent interest in the minds of the people.

ME. NELLIS.—The man without arms, who will execute the extraordinary feat of cutting paper, shooting a mark with a bow and arrow, playing upon the Accordion and Violoncello, &c. &c. He is a most extraordinary and amusing character, and is calculated to excite a vigorous and intelligent interest in the minds of the people.

LIVING WILD ANIMALS.—Is also included in the American Museum, and at a convenient period during the exhibition.

MR. PERCE.—Will enter the arena of the Ring, and give his skill in the art of Juggling, and will also perform the feat of cutting paper, shooting a mark with a bow and arrow, playing upon the Accordion and Violoncello, &c. &c. He is a most extraordinary and amusing character, and is calculated to excite a vigorous and intelligent interest in the minds of the people.

WAX STATUARY.—Including figures of the size of life, of all the Presidents of the United States, and of a great number of noted characters, American and Foreign, all of which are accurate likenesses, and are highly recommended. In fact, the whole establishment is a vast repository of wonders.

WONDERFUL OBJECTS OF NATURE & ART.—The full particulars of which it is impossible to give within the limits of a newspaper advertisement, and which has been brought together an enormous expenditure of means, for the largest and most complete travelling exhibition in the world.

A fine military Band will perform the most popular airs of the day, as the procession enters the city, and during the hours of exhibition.

At Lancaster, Monday, September 20.—Arrive of exhibition 25 cents, children under 10 years of age 10 cents. The whole of the exhibition is a vast repository of wonders.

REMOVED.—T. G. Dodson has removed his Cabinet and Chair Shop from Cornhill Row, to the Room on Broad Street, South of John Loggins, and is now engaged in the manufacture of all articles in his line, as heretofore.

Look Out!—We have now received a large and complete stock of all kinds of goods, which we are daily exhibiting and selling at the old stand of T. G. Dodson.

NEW GOODS.—We have now received a large and complete stock of all kinds of goods, which we are daily exhibiting and selling at the old stand of T. G. Dodson.
